Child/Family Therapist Opens Office in Delafield

DELAFIELD, WI – Janet M. Patterson, MSW, MFT, CAPSW, opened her child/family psychotherapy practice May 1, 2010, in the Town Bank Building in Delafield, 400 Genesee Street, Suite 301. Patterson will focus her practice on helping children and their families cope with adjustment, family issues, such as separation and divorce, death of a loved one, etc., ADD/ADHD, anxiety, school issues, and behavioral concerns. Her emphasis will be on working with families, children, and adolescents using a solution-focused treatment approach.

Patterson sees patients by appointment, Monday through Thursday from 8 – 4, and Saturday mornings. For more information, clients should contact her at 262-337-1437.

Patterson received her master's degree in social work from the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee and performed her internship under Diana Soltis-Friesner. She is a certified marriage and family therapist and certified advanced practice social worker.

The mother of grade-school-aged triplets, Patterson uses her personal experience to bring compassion and realism to her practice. "Children have always been my passion, and I'm thrilled to be able to work with local families to help them with their concerns."
